2017 Mississippi Lions All-State Band Drum Major
Auditions/Mace Details

* Clinics will be offered on August 26 & 27, 2017 for instruction on the routine and requirements. Check the Lions Band web site for the workshop times and locations. www.misslionsband.org The workshops are not required to audition, but will be extremely helpful!!!

The mace drum majors will audition to the same music. I will choose the music and have it recorded onto a DVD along with a video of the basic whistle routine, and a video of the mace routine. The mp3 file of the music, and the video of the routines, including a break down count for count, can be downloaded onto a computer, iPod, etc. The routine can actually be learned from the breakdown on the DVD. You can purchase the DVD at the workshops for $10.

To make the experience positive and a better opportunity for success, most of their routine, moderately basic, will already be made up for the drum majors; however, a portion of the routine will be left to demonstrate any advanced mace skills that they would like to include for extra credit. This section must be filled to complete the routine!

Buy, borrow, acquire a mace now (American or British mace 60 inches – no signal batons!!!!) British Maces are better and are easier to maneuver, but either is acceptable. You must bring a mace to the workshops!

Students may begin learning spins and a single/toss in both hands prior to the workshops. Even learning on a rifle is better than nothing!

At the end of this message is information provided to assist you with the logistics of choosing a mace.

- * Style, posture, general appearance, clarity, control of mace skills, carriage, rhythm, co-ordination, and self-discipline are the criteria upon which you will be evaluated.
- * Students will perform a required routine after the whistle routine.
- * Students should wear a drum major/band style uniform.
- * Candidates for the Lions Band drum major must perform the required routines in a manner that sets them apart from others. The performance will be evaluated on the technical proficiency of mace skills, marching, and vocal commands as well as their overall performance qualities.

Feel free to contact me if you have any questions. lkhisaw@hotmail.com

Mace recommendations...

The British Mace. Standard length is 60". It is also called a Premiere Mace. It could cost up to $299.00. Here is a tip: Cut the cross off of the top and grind it down to smooth. The cross can rip uniform and cause injuries.

The American Mace. You want it with chains, not chords! The practice crown or ball is preferred over the eagle. The eagle is bulky and can get in the way. The standard length is 58". You want the LOW DOME, not the high dome. $176 is a ballpark price; and it is preferred to be black or white.

Local music stores may have maces in stock. Please use them as a resource to consider if making a purchase. Check online for other resources.

We prefer the British or Premiere Mace. It is kind of the step up version of maces. The American mace is more of a beginner style, or at least that is our professional opinion. We think the weight of a British Mace allows for better control and allows for more advanced tricks. Plus, we like the way it spins in the air during tosses better than the American.
